

Columbia Food Recommendations

Summary:

The website is based on my food recommendations I have tried through a year of being in Columbia. I have tried numerous types of cuisines, including Mexican, Italian, Japanese, and more throughout the area. Each restaurant is rated out of five stars, along with a description of what I ate there. On each individual page, I will go more in depth on the food I have tried in the individual restaurant by generally talking about the experience, affordability, and how often I return to the restaurant. I will display the menu, location, and various pictures indoors and outdoors as well. I wanted to focus on food because I enjoy learning about different cultures through food and wanted to share my experiences with others. This website will be a way for someone to find a place to eat when they are indecisive, especially when people who attend UofSC come from many different places.

Page:

1. About me (picture of myself and short intro)
2. Restaurant Review (4-5 restaurants w/photos, location, price, rating, etc.)
3. Best Eats (having various food categories just for quick picks)
4. Food Experiences (events, coffee, food trucks, etc.)
5. Columbia Guide (organize it by location for those passing by Columbia and focus on various hot spots: Vista, Downtown, 5 points, On/near campus, Devine St, Irmo | display a map and mark where to eat in that are)
6. Contact page (Name, email/phone, recommendation for me, message box, social media link) end with short message.
